

Creative Garden Preschool and Early Learning Center Family Fun

I hope you enjoy these activities. I do want to encourage you to read every day with your child. A thread will be posted each day for you to post under for all items 😊 Activities will vary each day and there will be some videos posted of other activities not listed.

All resource pages will be available by searching the file section in our group on Facebook, Creative Garden Preschool and Early Learning Center Family Fun or by visiting www.punxsutawneylibrary.org, resources, at home activities.

If you do not have access to a printer, you can view all of these and make your own at home using crayons, markers, or colored pencils.

3/18/20	Wednesday
Writing * Writing prompt pages are all available to print.	An important rule at home is _____ because _____. Encourage your child to draw a picture and complete the writing prompt. You can write for them and have them trace your words if they are able to write on their own. Enjoy a conversation about why rules are important and keep us safe.
Math	Find items from nature or around the house to count. We will post a video encouraging your child to count with us as well. Talk about more and less.
Science	Explore living and non-living things. Ask your child if something is living or non-living. Ex. A table, the chair, the grass, a tree, a book, a bird. If you are able to go on a walk around your home search for items that are living and non-living. You can also do this by looking out the window.
Extra	Silly socks. Have your child decorate socks or put on mix-match sox and share on our thread for all to see.

3/19/20	Thursday
Writing	Spring Writing Prompt
Science	Signs of Spring. Go outside and look for signs of spring. Talk about all four seasons. Post a picture of a sign of spring. If you can not get outside or can not take a picture, have your child draw a picture to share.
Reading	While reading a story today, ask your child questions about the story such as who, what, when, where, and how.
Extra	Use your senses to explore spring/nature. I will post a video of a walk enjoying the senses of touch, hearing, smell, and sight. If you are unable to do this, find things around the house that your child thinks would feel like a tree, grass, etc. Open a window to talk about smells, sounds, and what you see.
3/20/20	Friday
Writing	I feel calm writing prompt. Talk about what your body feels like when it is calm. Encourage your child to close their eyes and take a few deep breaths.
Math	Addition with natural items or items around the home. Collect some rocks, pinecones, sticks, or items around your home and use them to create addition problems. I will be posting a video for your child to join me too.
Health and Safety	Talk to your child about germs. Practice sneezing/ coughing into your elbow. Talk about times it is important to wash your hands. Have your child practice handwashing and singing a song for 20 seconds. There are a lot of great songs online for handwashing, you can also use traditional songs such as Happy Birthday or the ABC's. I will post of video too.
Extra	Pajama Day. We will start a thread in the group to post pictures of your child in the pajamas. Bedtime routines are also an excellent time to talk about feeling calm.
